The only limit is your imagination. To get started, assess what your needs are and create a list of all items that you want to store in your area. When making that list, evaluate your lifestyle and how you will function in that space. Determine how well the existing space works, and establish pros and cons regarding the current layout to discuss with your designer. Build an inspiration scrapbook of photos, clippings, etc. to help establish the look and feel of your new room. Next, visit your local Wellborn Dealer with your list and inspiration scrapbook in hand. Their designer will discuss with you your storage needs, budget and goals for the area. They will use this information to design storage solutions that will help you organize your life in style.

Medium Density Fiberboard

Using high pressure and temperatures, MDF is formed by combining wood fibers with a wax resin binder to form panels. It is made of wood veneer. It is much more dense than normal particle board.

This is a durable and tough wood product, commonly used in the construction industry.

Cherry

Cherry is synonymous with luxurious cabinets. The rich red highlights give the wood a distinctive appearance. Cherry will occasionally have tiny pin knots, pitch pockets and very small, dark streaks of gum. These features have fascinated woodworkers for centuries.

Maple

Maple is widely used in the cabinetry industry. This wood species features a straight grain with several distinctive characteristics. These include unique figures such as bird's-eye, fiddle back, mineral streaks and curly grain patterns. Finely textured with a natural luster, this creamy-white to light reddish-brown wood is often used for cabinets and floors.

Oak

Authentic American red oaks are open-pored and have grain patterns. Wellborn's manufacturing technology presents oak with straighter grains than most cabinet lines, and our process minimizes the wide grains and reduces the widths of cathedrals in oak.
